

Zooman and the Sign

Zooman: when you got nothing to do come to the zoo! First couple hours of the worst. The big blue fools are probably sweeping the neighborhood by now, picking up everybody in sight. So there ain't that many places to hide, except maybe a junkie hole, or out here in the dang park. I've got some place to go. I don't want to get nobody in trouble, that's all! You stay away from your people as long as you can, besides my mama never could take pressure, no way! She just sit there and cry plus, it's the first damn place the man is going to look! I ain't that dumb! I shot that little trick because I felt like it! Zooman felt like shooting somebody! And that damn Gustav is just lucky it ain't laying him! I got people everywhere. Detroit. California. I got an uncle in Buffalo, couple cousins in Houston. I got an aunt on my mother side graduated top of a class at college. Plus I've got friends in town! So I've got plenty of places to go if I want to! Plenty. I just don't want to go nowhere.
